

The future is here. Digital tools that make the benefits experience better.

Anthem's Sydney mobile app uses the latest in digital technology and artificial intelligence (AI) to deliver a more personalized benefits experience to your employees. It's simple and easy to use.

At Anthem, we believe the future of sustainable health care is to focus on preventive and proactive care driven by digital technology. This can yield powerful interconnections between benefit plans, network providers, care managers and wellness tools.

That's why we've created Sydney. It's so much more than a mobile app. Sydney is a personal health ally powered by AI that feels as if it's a real person. Personalization is what makes it different from other apps on the market today. Through data, predictive analytics and AI, Anthem customizes each experience to the member to serve a population of one.

Sydney and anthem.com work seamlessly together to make it easy for your employees to connect with all their benefits including medical, dental, vision, life and disability - anytime, anywhere. Because keeping your employees healthy means keeping them connected to their health all the time, not just when they have a claim. It's all focused on motivating them to be their healthiest.

Using Sydney and anthem.com, your employees get answers faster with our interactive mobile chat feature powered by AI. They can find a doctor, dentist or eye doctor in a snap - even map their location and distance. And with digital ID cards, they don't have to shuffle through their wallets or worry about losing cards. Our digital tools connect members with the right resources at the right time.

Sydney and anthem.com aren't just for medical plans

Our digital tools have your employees covered for dental, vision, life or disability too. Whether they are a dental only customer or have multiple Anthem plans, we're here 24/7 for your employees.
